

VANDERBILT POLL: November 2011

Hello, I'm calling for the Vanderbilt Poll. This is a new survey asking Tennesseans their opinions and thoughts about topics like the economy, and important decisions that are being made in our state. My name is [$1] and your phone number has been randomly selected to complete the new survey. Have I reached a home or apartment?

I'm supposed to talk to the adult member of this household who had their birthday most recently - even if he or she isn't at home right now. Thinking only of the people living here who are at least 18 years old, who was the last one to have a birthday? May I speak with him/her?

[If Reintroducing yourself]: I'm calling for the Vanderbilt Poll a new survey to ask Tennesseans their opinions and thoughts about topics like the economy and important decisions that are being made in our state. My name is [$1] and your phone number has been randomly selected to complete the new survey. This survey is anonymous and your participation is voluntary. It takes about 15 minutes to complete the survey. Are you willing to answer the questions? If already speaking to the eligible respondent: This survey is anonymous and your participation is voluntary. It takes about 15 minutes to complete the survey. Would you be willing to answer the questions?

One issue facing the state of Tennessee is how to select judges. Since 1970, judges on the Tennessee Supreme Court have been chosen by the Governor from a list of qualified candidates put forward by a nominating convention. The State Legislature is currently debating whether Tennessee should have voters elect judges. Some support this change because citizens rather than the governor would choose judges. Others oppose this change because it judges would have to campaign for election and it may politicize the judicial process. Which do you think – who how should judges be chosen, or haven't you thought much about it?
